Glossary

ACT: A standardized test for high school achievement assessing student learning in English, Mathematics, Reading, Science, and Writing. An alternative to the SAT for college applications.

AP: Advanced Placement is an exam for senior students run by a US-based College Board. AP aims to emulate first year college courses, thus enabling students to earn college credit.

CIS: The Council of International Schools awards schools that ensure high educational standards and a focus on infusing an international and intercultural perspective into their programs. It takes 1-2 years of self-assessment before schools can be accredited.

CITA: The Commission on International and Trans-Regional Accreditation is a US-run agency that enforces internationally recognized high educational standards in its schools.

EAL/EFL/ESL: These programs offer assistance for students learning English as a Second Language, with half or full-day programs and individual tutoring during non-school hours. High Scope Curriculum: Emphasizes a hands-on approach to learning in early childhood education. Eight content areas provide its Key Developmental Indicators.

IB (PYP) (MYP) (DP): The International Baccalaureate Programme includes Primary Years, Middle Years and Diploma Programmes. IB fosters critical thinking, problem solving, research and writing skills. The DP requires 6 courses, Theory of Knowledge (philosophy) and a 4000 word extended essay. The IB DP is accepted in college applications worldwide.

IGCSE: The International General Certificate of Secondary Education is taken between the ages of 14 and 16. Students are required to study core topics along with a select number of over 70 optional topics. Typically, qualified students move on to study the AP or IB Programme.

IPC: The International Primary Curriculum aims to instill in children a desire to learn by focusing on three aspects of subject matter; knowledge, skill, and understanding.

NEASC: The New England Association of Schools and Colleges is a US-based organization which helps international schools adhere to publicly stated standards and objectives.

NCCT: The National Centre for School Curriculum and Textbook Development is a nongovernmental agency for schools seeking both international and Chinese accreditation. The NCCT helps to develop and assess school curricula, textbooks and teaching methods.

SAT: An aptitude test used in the US mainly for college applications. A newly revamped SAT released in Spring 2016 includes changes to scoring and testing content. The test comprises three parts: Evidence-based Reading and Writing, Math and an optional Essay.

TOEFL: Test of English as a Foreign Language assesses English proficiency. International students applying to English speaking universities are required to take the TOEFL exam.

WASC: The Western Association of Schools and Colleges is an American organization that assesses and accredits schools that successfully undergo a six-year accreditation process
